STRIKERS CLASH WITH TROOPS IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Reports Declare Soldiers Join With Laborers In Revolutionary Fight

GENEVA, Jan. 31.—According to a basic dispatch printed by La Suisse today, there have been serious conflicts between troops and strikers in Berlin, with casualties.

At some places, the story asserted, troops refused to fire on the strikers. Dispatches from Vienna received here asserted that soldiers started the recent strike movement, many Austrian officers leading. These officers, it was declared, tore off their insignia and joined with their men.

A dispatch to the Democrat declared "A revolution, not a strike," is reigning in Austria.

Prague messages reported that the local authorities were unable to suppress the strikers and that troops were driving to aid.

STRIKE ONLY IN BERLIN, REPORT

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 31.—"There is no news of any serious strike movement except in Berlin," declared a semi-official statement received from the German capital today.

WORKERS SERVE
ULTIMATUM

ZURICH, Jan. 31.—Berlin's strikers "are becoming increasingly threatening," according to a copy of the German socialist newspaper Vorwärts, received here today. The paper prints the text of an ultimatum which it declares was served on the government by the strikers. This document demands acceleration of peace negotiations on the basis of no annexations and no indemnities; participation of workmen of all countries in peace deliberations; better food distribution; restoration of the right of public meetings; abolition of the scheme of militarization of war factories; release of all political prisoners; democratization of all state institutions, and equal suffrage by direct secret ballot.

COPENHAGEN REPORTS
BERLIN STRIKE GROWING

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 31.—Copies of Germania, received here today, declare the German strike is still growing and that Under-Minister of the Interior Wallraff continues in his refusal to negotiate with the workers.

Many socialist leaders have been answered in various towns, it was reported. In Berlin a thick fog enabled agitators to distribute revolutionary pamphlets undetected.

STRIKE SPREADS TO MUNITIONS WORKERS

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 31.—While agitation for a general strike failed at Munich, following a stormy meeting, it has spread to the munitions and transportation workers in Furth and Nuremberg, according to copies of yesterday's Cologne Volke Zeitung received here today.

PROBING EXPLOSION
BIG CHEMICAL TANK

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 31.—Police and federal authorities started an investigation today to determine the cause of the explosion of a 150,000-gallon tank of barium sulphate which damaged the Barbour Chemical Company's plant at Melrose last night. The tank, according to the foreman, was supposed to have been emptied during the day. All of the workmen on the night shift escaped injury. The explosion was felt ten miles away but the most severe damage was the destruction of the tank and partial wrecking of the building in which it was located. The plant has been making chemicals on government contract.

RAILROADS HELPLESS
UNDER HEAVY STORMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—With deep snow piled over some tracks and rain and torrential streams washing out others, the national railroad and the fuel administration were almost helpless in the power of the elements today. Predictions of a bitter cold wave moving toward the Atlantic coast destined to settle down for a stay of several days, added to the gravity of the situation. Coal movement has been disastrously upset by continued snow-ups.

The first session lasted three and a half hours. Today's was expected to be at least that long. Any decisions which the allied leaders make will be given out solely in official statements.

FRENCH GOLD RESERVE
GREATEST IN EUROPE

PARIS, Dec. 28. (By mail.)—When the moment comes for settling accounts, whatever trumps Germany may hold, France is sure of holding the Ace of trumps—the greatest gold reserve of any country in Europe. The gold reserves, which every country has been busily accumulating, rank as follows:

	Millions of Francs.
France	5,326
England	1,409
Italy	835
Russia	3,453
Rumania	493
Germany	3,005
Denmark	267
Spain	1,949
Holland	1,419
Sweden	286
Switzerland	349

One boche shell the other day struck a cook shack in a battered little town within the support area. A cook who at that moment was baking a birthday cake for an officer, was instantly killed. Seven men in all have been wounded recently, but these were said to have suffered accidental injuries.

One Sammy from New York city emerged from the trenches today with frost-bitten feet—and yet smiling through his mud-caked hair. "I'll bet I'll catch the dickens for getting my feet frosted," he said. "What's become of all those tobacco funds we read about being raised all over the United States? For God's sake give a fellow a cigarette I haven't had a smoke in fifteen days."

While frankly admitting its inability to supply all demands for cars, the railroad administration, in co-operation with the food administration, today began to make special provision for movement of food. Grain and feed will be moved first where needs are most acute. Zone representatives of the food administration will divert cars to points where need of food is sharpest and to points where large stores require immediate removal.

SAN DIEGO ORDINANCE
LIMITS BOOZE SALES

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 31.—Through arrangements with the military police and the police department the city council today has passed an ordinance closing all wholesale liquor houses at 6 p. m. daily, forbidding saloons selling bottled goods after that hour and forbidding the sale of liquor in restaurant tables where men in uniform are seated. The law is designed to prevent bootlegging among the soldiers and sailors.

War Department to Take Men Who May Be Rendered Ready

May Be Device Explained In Santa Ana Recently By Lyceum Lecturer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Changes in the physical requirements for men of the national army by which thousands who have been or would be rejected under the first regulations can now be accepted for service, were announced today by the provost marshal, General Crowder.

The modifications indicate the War Department is determined to hold for service—either general military or special—all men registered except those whose physical condition can never be remedied to make them fit for any kind of service.

Physical defects that can be remedied and make the men fit for service will be remedied or the men put into some special work, not so rigorous as trench fighting, Crowder says.

ALLIED COUNCIL CONCLUDES ITS SESSIONS AT VERSAILLES

Major General Bliss, General
Pershing Represent U. S.
In Discussion

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The second inter-allied council of Versailles was expected to conclude its formal sessions today after two days' meeting under conditions of the utmost secrecy.

The Paris press today expressed the liveliest interest in speculation that the conference discussed the old problem of a supreme, inter-allied military commander. Foreign Minister Picton's organ, the Petit Journal, however, declared its disbelief that such a move was in contemplation.

Some of those present included Major General Bliss, chief of staff of the American army; General Pershing, commander in chief of the American forces in the field; General Cadorna, former commander in chief of Italy's armies; Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, British commander in chief; French Foreign Minister Plichon; Italian Foreign Minister Soanino; Italian Premier Orlando and Premier Lloyd-George of Great Britain.

Premier Clemenceau of France, arriving among the last, was the only one in this assembly of notables that the crowd outside the building seemed to know at once. He was heartily cheered and stopped a moment at the entrance to shake hands with several pols.

SAMMIES MEET 'RED'S' DEATH IN LINE OF ACTION AT THE FRONT

Number Injured by Accident,
Some Killed by Explosions
While at Work

BY J. W. PEGLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Jan. 30. (Delayed.)—Five American soldiers have been killed recently by chance shells, according to announcement today.

The only American officer included in the list of recently wounded men is Captain Kingman—who was shot in the chest at close range by an American soldier, who mistook him for a boche in the night. Captain Kingman was crawling over No Man's Land in a night reconnaissance, and in the darkness an American soldier on the firing step of the trench thought he might be an enemy. Discovering his mistake, the Sammy hurried out and helped carry the wounded officer in.

All the shells which claimed these victims exploded in trenches and support areas. One of these killed was an interpreter, an ex-cook at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago.

He was accompanying a colonel on an inspection tour of the trenches and was blown up by a shell as he stood at the very entrance to the colonel's dugout. The colonel had just entered underground. The interpreter was close behind and was in the act of descending the steps when struck.

The colonel rushed up to find his companion mangled and dead.

Kills Three Instantly

On one other recent occasion a large shell screamed through the air and exploded in the center of a little knot of Sammies. Three were instantly killed and two were wounded.

This was several days ago. An ambulance was called out of the dimly dawn and rushed the wounded men six miles to the rear of the trenches, where the field hospital is located.

These orderlies hurried out and tenderly lifted down the stretcher bearing the men maimed inside.

One stretcher carried a soldier from Washington state, apparently about 20 years of age. He was taken to the operating room, where the white robed surgeons saw at a glance that he had only one chance in a million to survive.

An operation was quickly decided upon. The soldier had a frightful shell wound in his abdomen. Despite every care the boy died within fifteen minutes after his arrival.

Surgeons carefully placed this Sammy's belongings in an envelope for return to his parents. They included three photographs. One was apparently that of a little sister of the dead man. The girl was leading three big horses to a drinking trough.

Hit in Shoulder

Another American soldier recently wounded was a sergeant from Winchester, Tenn. He was crawling in a shallow trench at daylight when he came within sight of an enemy sniper. The boche promptly plugged him in the shoulder. "The shot bowed me over into a deep water-filled shell hole," the soldier said from his cot in the hospital. "The captain pulled me out or I would have drowned."

"The minute I got out I reached for my pistol but found my right arm was helpless. Then I turned my belt around and grabbed my pistol with my left hand.

"I wanted to get a revenge shot at that sniper, but I couldn't discover him. I'm all right—I'll be back in the line soon."

'RED'S' THREATS ACID TEST OF BOLSHEVIKI AUTHORITY

Question Uppermost Today
Is What Will Be Done to Ambassador Francis

PETROGRAD, Jan. 31.—A number of anarchists, delegates to the pan-soviet congress here, have been arrested by the bolshevik government as a result of threats of an attempt on Ambassador Francis to hold him responsible for America's treatment of Alexander Berkman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The acid test is being applied to the bolsheviks in the anarchist threat against United States Ambassador Francis at Petrograd.

Francis, whose experiences at Petrograd have been duplicated only by the stage about the Peking legation during the Chinese boxer rebellion, is calm and determined under the stress of his dangerous position, official cables show.

What will the bolshevik do? is the question on every head now. There is reason to believe this government either formally or informally has already moved to find out.

In the circumstances the Lenin-Trotsky regime is placed in a delicate situation. Torn by many and varied conflicting elements in its efforts to establish a government in Russia, the bolshevik leaders find themselves now in a position where they must apparently take sides with the American Government against the anarchists, if proper protection is afforded Francis. Whether or not the bolshevik will promise this protection official dispatches do not yet show. The State Department is waiting with concern to hear further from Francis, and is prepared to put into effect any recommendations he makes to meet the situation.

Jail U. S. Plotters

Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, for whose liberty the anarchists will hold Francis virtual hostage, are to be jailed. When this news reaches the sailors and workmen responsible for the threat against the American ambassador, the crisis is expected to come immediately.

Francis is prepared for armed resistance. Frequent demonstrations against the embassy in Petrograd growing out of misunderstanding of America's activity against the I. W. W. and German propaganda taking advantage of the Mooney trial in San Francisco, have warned him before now to prepare for later and perhaps greater dangers. His position in the past has shown his fearlessness in critical circumstances and the confidence the Government has in his ability to cope with any situation which may arise, is shown in the fact that today he has broader power to act officially than any other American diplomat.

Condition in Doubt

He alone has been confronted with the great task of offsetting the sinister influences of German propaganda, spread throughout Russia by hundreds of German agents, trying to sow the seed of rebellion against the United States. Today every effort is being made through the broken and interrupted news channels to learn what may be the extent of his danger under the new threat of anarchistic workmen and sailors, demanding release in the United States of fellow members of their organization.

"Our hands are clean. Our obligations to other peoples have been met. If we are compelled to sign a separate peace, there is not a single honest entente worker who can blame us."

The Pravda today printed a story that it was rumored a month ago that a separate peace agreement had been concluded between the central powers and Rumania. The latter, it was stated, had been granted compensations in Bessarabia.

Four Known to Have Died in Hotel Fire

MARTINEZ, Cal., Jan. 31.—Three men and one woman are known to have been burned to death and six others were injured in a fire which destroyed the Fairview Hotel in the Fairview addition to Martinez early today. The injured were hurt when they jumped from the second story of the burning building.

The fire is believed to have resulted from a guest in the hotel falling asleep while smoking a cigarette in bed.

The Fairview hotel is used chiefly by the Mountain Copper Company to house its workmen. Most of those injured were Italians. As the building with practically all of its records and contents was entirely destroyed, it was impossible to identify the dead definitely, or to determine if more than four persons lost their lives.

Hands Clean, Says Trotsky

"We have done our best for the cause of democratic peace," was the way Trotsky reported to the pan-soviet meeting.

NEW CREDIT TO BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Additional credit of $65,000,000 to Great Britain for January and $20,000,000 for February was announced today. This brings the British total up to date for 1918 to $460,000,000 and the grand war total to all allies to $4,525,900.

COMMISSION IS APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE SITUATION

Food Administration Names Men to Get Data on Sugar Beet Production

With announcement by the food administration in Washington yesterday of the names of the men selected for the commission to make the beet investigation requested by local growers, Attorney C. L. Rogers today announced that a meeting of the directors of the Associated Beet Growers of Southern California would be held this Saturday forenoon to discuss the matter and arrange for presenting data to the commission.

The members are former State Senator Prescott F. Cogswell of El Monte, Judge Merle J. Rogers of the Ventura Superior Court and John Perry of Sixtonton. Cogswell is a walnut grower and Perry is interested in onion growing.

"The personnel of the commission is highly satisfactory to me," said Bishop this morning. "I am acquainted with Cogswell and Rogers. I do not know Perry. Cogswell formerly resided at Austin, and is a frequent visitor here."

mission every assistance possible in getting at the facts as to the producing plants, that it might once and for all decide whether the refiners are paying or have been paying a price for beets that is just to the producers.

In my opinion the commission is well balanced, and the men are big enough to go into the matter and decide without prejudice.

I have no information as to where the commission will hold meetings, but I presume it will sit in different beet sections, so as to get the viewpoints of growers under all conditions.

The question of sending out letters to members of the association advising them to plant beets at once and in advance of the report of the findings of the commission will be settled at the meeting of the directors Saturday.

It should not take very long for the commission to get the information necessary for arriving at cost figures, and it may be deemed more advisable to await the findings before advising growers to plant. There is plenty of time yet to plant.

Refiners Undecided

Representatives of the refiners said this afternoon that they had not yet determined whether they would have representatives at the hearings.

GROCERY COMPANY TO PRESENT CARDS FOR SALE THRIFT STAMPS

F. C. Blauer and Company, grocers, are announcing a contest to aid in the campaign for the sale of thrift stamps in the city schools.

In making its plans the grocery company has offered a prize, not only to the child selling the most thrift stamps during the period assigned, but also will present the school in which the student is enrolled a thrift certificate. In this way not only the child but the entire school is to be interested in securing the prize.

The awards are to be made as follows:

A thrift certificate to the pupil who sells the most thrift stamps from this date up to and including February 8.

A thrift certificate to the school in which the winning pupil is enrolled.

Each school is to keep account of all the stamps sold.

GIANTS WEAKER THAN AT END OF SEASON

Valuable Men Lost Make '18 Pennant Race Outcome Rather Doubtful

Individually Kelly and Baird, from the Giants, have scored branches in the game and navy.

Baird is in the navy and Kelly in the army.

The Giants lead all other clubs in the number of officers in the service. Harry McCormick, former outfielder, is a first lieutenant of engineers; S. W. Royce is a first lieutenant of infantry, and Fred Brainard is a captain in the aviation corps.

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The Giants stand on the threshold of their 1918 season weaker than when they finished last fall. Whether that fact will deter them from winning another pennant remains to be seen.

They have lost Charley Herzog, which fact in itself, will make a better club of the Giants, for Herzog, dissatisfied, would have been a liability rather than an asset. However, Herzog played wonderful baseball last summer. It was his efforts more than anything else that set the Giants at the top of the heap and placed them in the world's series.

Larry Doyle cannot even make a commendable effort to play such baseball as Herzog is capable of. He never saw the day when he was as valuable for all around ability as the new member of the Boston Braves. He is a far better hitter and is possessed of a sunny disposition, something that was not Herzog's boast.

In addition to Herzog's loss, the Giants stand deprived of cunning ability of a trio of the greatest left-hand fingers ever herded together on one baseball club. Slim Sallee is practically through as a regular effective worker. Fred Schupp never will be any better, although it is probable he will be just as good during the coming season as he was a year ago. Rube Benton will be practically as effective as last summer, although he is nearing the point that divides between superlative effectiveness and the decline.

The pitching staff of the Giants, however, will have some right-handed support. Jess Barnes has been added and he is a most effective young man. It has been noted, however, that John J. McGraw failed to make use of Poll Perritt, one of the best right-handers in the National League, when he had the opportunity, and probably lost the world's series because he ignored the fact that Perritt would have been able to stop the White Sox.

Barnes will be of undoubted value to the pitching staff. He and Perritt, provided McGraw isn't still determined to keep away from using the former Cardinal, will fill in the weak spots of the pitching corps.

But pitchers cannot pitch and score runs at the same time. And runs are a most necessary commodity. The Giants, with their power, should be a better run scoring machine.

This year Robertson is not going to be the hitting nor the base runner that he has been in the past, and Benny Kauff is going to experience diminished speed. George Burns undoubtedly will be just as good as ever.

There is retrogression among the Giants at third base and shortstop. Their former shortstop Zimmerman failed to play so brilliantly as a year ago. Young Hobart, an ordinary first baseman, he will remain so.

The Giants' catching staff is admirable. George Gibson and Bill Rariden both are practically through with their stardom days, but in Lew McCarly the Giants possess the best young catcher in baseball, and Jack Onslow is expected to become a most capable receiver.

Decline in the infield will hit the Giants hardest. It may affect their chances for the pennant more than can be observed at present.

RUSSIAN STEAMER IN PORT MUST REMAIN

A PACIFIC PORT, Jan. 31.—A Russian steamer from Vladivostok was discharging her cargo here today but when the unloading is completed she will not be allowed to load again until the United States recognizes some government in Russia. When the vessel arrived she had no papers and the captain didn't know what government ruled his home country. It took six hours to arrange clearance.

9 SHIPS SUNK IN WEEK

TOTAL $2348.01 THRIFT STAMPS PURCHASED BY CITY SCHOOLS

Interest on Saving Increases As Children Compete For Honors In Sales

Total amount Thrift Stamps sold in city schools, up to and including January 30:

School	Total	Per Capita
Jefferson	$338.99	$1.71
Intermediate	515.41	1.26
Washington	267.45	1.24
Spurgeon	232.58	1.12
McKinley	275.50	.04
Lincoln	197.00	.75
H. S. Jr College	433.50	.52
Roosevelt	73.33	.27
Fifth Street	11.25	.19
Grand total,	$2348.01

With the largest single day's sale recorded for yesterday a total of $337.37, the schools of the city are forging ahead in the sale of Thrift Stamps. Interest is just beginning to be aroused at the high school. Sales there yesterday amounted to $221, more than half of the entire amount so far purchased by this school, showing that the advanced students are just beginning to invest their money in these little saving stamps. The total amount so far invested by the school children is $2,480.01.

The per capita purchase puts Jefferson school well in the lead. The children there have taken the large sum of $338.99 in stamps, making an average of $1.71 per child enrolled. The intermediate school ranks second with a total of $515.41 or an average of $1.26 per pupil!

Many instances are being related of means used to get the children interested in saving. One little lad was reported who had drawn $21 from the savings bank the other day and invested the entire amount in Thrift Stamps. Another case is reported in which a father has promised to buy two stamps for his children every time they buy $1.00 worth of stamps, the money they earn themselves from their regular spending allowance.

All such schemes, and lessons of saving are aiding in accumulating a fine amount of stamps and of helping Uncle Sam in his fight for democracy. The children of the schools seem to be realizing that they can have a part and are taking an active interest in the campaign.

WHEAT ELEVATORS IN CANADA SEIZED TO SUPPLY EXPORT NEEDS

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 31.—All wheat elevators throughout Canada, probably aggregating 100,000,000 bushels, was seized by the government today. Lake shippers must cancel all orders in the United States and transfer them to the Wheat Export Company, a government corporation for export overseas.

WILL REGISTER FOR SHIP ARMY

County Council of Defense Names Places Where Workers May Apply

The Orange County Council of Defense has appointed a number of registrars for the enrollment of men who are willing to go to work in shipyards. The county council received a letter from the State Council of Defense asking that registrars be named. The letter does not give details of the plan, it does not state what ages of men are wanted, and it does not designate the kind of workers needed.

Barnes will be of undoubted value to the pitching staff. He and Perritt, provided McGraw isn't still determined to keep away from using the former Cardinal, will fill in the weak spots of the pitching corps.

But pitchers cannot pitch and score runs at the same time. And runs are a most necessary commodity. The Giants, with their power, should be a better run scoring machine.

TALKS TOO MUCH, FEDERAL MEN TO LOOK UP HIS RECORD

Under Influence of Liquor, Refused to Pay For Supper

Too much talk while under the influence of liquor landed Alexandria Hallengreen in jail here last night, and will result in investigation of his past life by federal authorities. He made very unpatriotic remarks last night to Proprietor Nichols of the Arcade restaurant.

He went into the restaurant for supper, and after the meal refused to pay for it. He said he was a German, that Nichols ought to be in France, and that he hoped the German army would wipe out the French and U. S. troops. Joe Ryan took him into custody. He gave Nichols as his birth place.

This morning he told City Marshal Jernigan that he was born in Sweden and that he had no recollection of using the language he is alleged to have used in the restaurant.

Jernigan today notified E. M. Blanford of the Department of Justice in Los Angeles of the action of the prisoner, and the department will investigate him.

PERCENTAGE OF MEN ACCEPTED IS GROWING.

This Time Loftus Morrison, Rejected Before, Accepted
By Doctors

This was a good morning for the selection of soldiers. The percentage of men accepted for full military service was more than double what it has been any other morning this week. Out of twenty men examined, eight were accepted for full military service.

Among the eight was Loftus B. Morrison, known to football fans hereabouts as "Big Spud" Morrison. In the examinations for the first draft Morrison was rejected, much to his regret, for he was ready to go. This morning he was found acceptable.

The result of the physical examinations this morning follows:

Accepted for Full Military Service—Thomas Jimenez, San Juan Capistrano; James H. Clay, San Juan Capistrano; Ernest L. Boisero, Yorba; Eric Heggstrom, Escondido; Roy E. Warren, Santa Ana, R. ## EIGHTH GRADERS AT FULLERTON REAL SMART

Surpass Other Schools In Test
on Twenty Examples
In Arithmetic

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—Score another for Fullerton.

This time it is the Fullerton grammar school that has landed this city at the top.

Last week County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell came up from Santa Ana and paid a visit to the grammar and primary schools.

While here the superintendent gave a test, such as he has been giving to the Eighth grade of all the schools in the county, and soon saw that Fullerton was about to go over the top.

This test consists of twenty questions in arithmetic to be answered in forty minutes and is given to the Eighth grade pupils only. Well he gave it, and when the test was over he found that the pupils of Fullerton had surpassed the Eighth-graders of all other schools that had taken the test up to that time, and did so by a wide margin. About all of the big schools except Anaheim had been given the test, and since that time Anaheim has been tested out but failed to surpass or even equal Fullerton.

The Orange city pupils could not touch the school of this city, either, in this test.

More Thoughts for the Conscientious Objector

BY SAMUEL ARMOR

In my last article the conscientious objector was shown to have no adequate support for his scruples against war itself, either in the definition of conscience, or in the experience of mankind generally, or in the teachings of Holy Writ.

The criminality of war, like that of any other act, consists largely in the intent or purpose with which it is carried on. To wage war for plunder or conquest is wrong; but to wage it in self defense or to protect the weak and helpless is right. Self-defense includes the defense of one's home and country, whether such country be native or adopted. Aside from the divine purpose of an overruling Providence, this distinction between the different kinds of war must be insisted on, as applicable to the belligerent nations and also to the individual participants. Mankind will never accept the objector's verdict, that all war is wrong; for if that were so, then would those who refuse to defend themselves, their homes and their country, be at the mercy of the ruthless savages who live by plunder, and maltreat and destroy what they do not need, as mere pastime. Think of the treatment of the Jews by the Russians, of the Armenians by the Turks and then read the following description of the Assyrians:

"If you can imagine a man with no small amount of learning, with all the externals of civilization, with a fine taste in certain aspects of art, and a tremendous aptitude for organization and discipline, and then imagine such a man imbued with the ruthless spirit of Red Indian brave, and an absolute delight in witnessing the most ghastly forms of human suffering, you will have a fairly accurate conception of the ordinary Assyrian king or commander; the outside, a splendid specimen of highly developed humanity, the inside a mere ravening tiger."

This description would fit some other people besides the Assyrians; it is quoted here to show the kind of people that respect nothing but force. It is sometimes necessary to fight fire with fire; similia similibus curantur. That the better class of citizens would rather take up arms in defense of their homes and institutions than see their country subjugated and everything they hold dear exposed to the capricious dictation of such unscrupulous taskmasters, is evidenced by the unanimity with which the churches of all denominations are dropping the pacifists from their rolls and are backing up the government in its preparations for war. It was reported a few weeks ago that Thibet had offered to furnish the entente allies with 100,000 troops, nearly every man of whom was a priest. Oh the whole world justifies war, when waged in defense of humanity, except a few objectors and those who are committing the outrage!

In defending the conscientious objector, Rev. Sidney Strong argued as follows:

"In our country there are probably enough who are willing and even glad to take up arms, who not only have no scruples against war but are eager for battle. Would it not be unwise and unstatesmanlike to try to force others—likewise brave and patriotic—to perform a task against which their deepest and most sacred convictions revolt?"

Was it honorable for a minister of the gospel to advise his protege, the objector, to shun his obligations and hazards off onto another? Would as scrupulous a person as the objector professes to be, ask another to do something that he himself regards as wrong? What grounds has the minister for thinking the government would be a party to such an unfair apportionment of war burdens? How did he come to think the objector is brave and patriotic? Does he know the objector has any "deepest and most sacred convictions"? If he has such, how do they revolt? Can't this minister see that such an arrangement as he proposed would convert all the slackers in the country into conscientious objectors? Besides many timid people, wouldn't every coward, crank, degenerate and rascal in the United States immediately become afraid of the qualms of conscience and thereby evade their responsibility for the support of the government? If only the brave, capable and patriotic citizens be taken to war and the cowardly, inefficient and unpatriotic ones be allowed to remain at home, would there not be a great deterioration in the quality of the people of this nation?

The government's brief, in the selective draft case before the United States Supreme Court, treated this part of the subject as follows: "As it is in the power of the government to compel, so it is the duty of all its citizens to give, regardless of personal preferences, the service which they can most efficiently render. Those who bear the responsibility of leadership must have also the power to assign every citizen to the station he is most qualified to fill. Nor is it any longer just to leave the performance of military duties only to the most ardent and patriotic, instead of distributing them with equity over the population, as a whole."

Closely allied to the conscientious objector is the constitutional objector, the wise guy, who professes to believe that conscription is unconstitutional. The same objection was advanced at the time of the draft during the Civil War, and President Lincoln argued the question in part as follows:

"The constitution declares that 'the congress shall have power to raise and support armies.' The whole scope of the conscription act is 'to raise and support armies.' There is nothing else to it. Do you admit that the power is given to raise and support armies, and yet insist that by this act congress has not exercised the power in a constitutional mode, has not done the thing in the right way? Who is to judge of this? The constitution gives congress the power, but it does not prescribe the mode, or expressly declare who shall prescribe it. In such case congress must prescribe it. High though his title, proud his name, boundless his wealth as wish can claim; if state authorities consent; nor if despite those titles, power and self,

Passed Through Santa Ana

Tuesday Evening With

Other Troops

Denny Pennock, son of Billy Pennock of this city, passed through Santa Ana Tuesday afternoon on a train en route east from Camp Kearny. He is a member of the band of the 16th regiment, and is one of seven men who have been selected to man a tank for action in France.

Relatives here met him at the depot when he passed through.

Reports were circulated yesterday that Company L had passed through the night before and many local people with relatives in the company got busy to ascertain the truth of the report. It was without foundation.

LOCAL PEOPLE MADE VICTIMS MAGAZINE SOLICITOR LAST FALL

That local people who subscribed for "The Illustrated Review" when this city was worked by solicitors last November were victims of a swindler, is shown by the receipt of a letter by one of those who paid fifty cents for a subscription but did not receive a magazine. In response to his inquiry regarding the delay, the publishers have written as follows:

"We are very sorry to inform you that Mr. Gustine is a FAKE. He has never been authorized to act as one of our agents, and has never turned in an order to our office. We would thank you to send us your receipt which he gave you. Probably you can assist us in locating him."

A TRIUMPH FOR REAL DEMOCRACY

In one phase, at least, of the great industrial shut-down the nation may take just pride. Whatever is practical merits for the relief of the fuel situation may prove to have been, it has brought a gratifying demonstration of our national capacity for self-government.

Not one manufacturer in a hundred was in sympathy with the closing order. Not one in a hundred believed, when the order was promulgated, that it was necessary or wise. Condemnation on the part of manufacturers, merchants, state and city officials, workmen and newspapers was almost unanimous. It might be supposed, therefore, that the order would meet with widespread disregard and defiance. This is not Germany. Americans are not accustomed to sudden, curt orders from governmental authorities interfering drastically with their business, their jobs and their mode of life. There is no more independent people on the face of the earth.

And yet the sequence was such as a man from Mars might set down as marvelous. There was almost unanimous acquiescence. The people, even while they condemned the order, obeyed it. Factories remaining open were so exceptional that it was difficult to find them, and most of these cases were due to misconception rather than deliberate disobedience.

This sort of thing is a triumph for democracy. Americans plainly realize that real democracy is not the thing that goes by that name in Russia, where every man does what he pleases and the nation drifts into economic and political anarchy.

REAL DEMOCRACY IS ORDERED SELF-CONTROL.

A free but undisciplined people, in a case like this, would defy the order and thereby invite turmoil and chaos. A disciplined people acquiesces, remembering that the order comes from duly constituted officials who derive their authority from the people, and who can be deprived of power if the people, after sober reflection, decide that they have abused it.

SENSELESS KNOCKING

A women editorial writer of considerable popularity is going out of her way once or twice every week to write articles which to the superficial observer are merely humorous and harmless, but which are having the cumulative effect of undermining the confidence of many of her readers in the food administration. There is no constructive criticism in these articles, no effort to help the administration where it is weak, to correct mistakes by wise measures. The censure is purely destructive in its nature and manifestly intended to discredit the administration.

Now, knocking the administration, in time of peace, is one of America's best little indoor and out-door—not to mention trolley-riding—sports. And whether it's Republicans knocking a Democratic administration or Democrats knocking a Republican, or members of other political faiths knocking all the rest, it has its extremely useful aspects. For one thing, it keeps people's minds alert on the subject of government. It keeps them from going to sleep on their job of running the country. And in a democracy that is every man's job—or ought to be. And whether it's Republicans or Democrats who are leading the country to the demotion bow-wows, the bulk of public opinion keeps itself pretty sane, and affairs of government slowly better themselves year by year.

BUT IN TIME OF WAR THERE IS A DIFFERENCE. WILSON IS NOT A DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT NOW. GOETHALS IS NOT A REPUBLICAN QUARTER-MASTER GENERAL. VANDERLIP, HOOVER—who knows the political parties of half the men doing big work in WASHINGTON WITH OR WITHOUT PAY?

There is an American administration, doing its level best to help us win the war. Who knocks the administration, boldly or subtly, is knocking the whole people. Knocking for the sake of undermining confidence is plain pro-Germanism.

Sensible criticism, intended to right mistakes, to make things better—that is always in place, and never needed more than now.

But knocking Mr. Hoover is an indication that one's stomach is of more importance than one's ideals of liberty. It is the mark of the self-indulgent slacker. If one has any helpful ideas in the way of food-saving which Mr. Hoover doesn't know, it's a duty to pass them along that others may benefit. If they are big ideas, doubtless the food administration would like to have them for all the people. But if you've got to do senseless knocking, knock the Kaiser instead of using your hammer on the people who are trying to save you from him.

BOLSHEVIKI AUTOCRACY

Nothing could have shown more clearly the absurdity and inconsistency of the Bolshevik government than its suppression of the national assembly the moment that assembly dared register its sentiment against the "Reds."

The Bolsheviks have professed to be only representatives of true democracy in Russia. They have posed as the instructors of the world in the principles of political freedom, giving lessons alike to enemies and allies. They have urged the German people to follow their example, and set themselves free from their military overlords. They have scorned our own government as a system of intolerable tyranny. They have looked with pity and contempt on the slight progress made by England and France toward genuine liberty.

All the time these precious Bolsheviks were only a small minority faction in Russian politics, holding power by grace of their unparalleled nerve and the child-like tolerance of the Russian people. Finally the constituent assembly, consisting of duly elected deputies from nearly all parts of Russia, got together and gave utterance to the real voice of the nation. By a two-thirds vote it condemned the policy of Lenin, Trotzky et al.

By the rules of representative government, the Lenin ministry should thereupon immediately have resigned, yielding place to successors commanding majority support. Instead, these leaders calmly kicked out the presumptuous representatives of the people, locked the door and took all the reins of authority into their own hands.

There are precedents for such action. The czar did the same thing more than once. Napoleon did it. Cromwell did it. But the action isn't exactly what we'd expect from prophets of freedom, with Democracy on their lips. If democracy means anything at all, it means the rule of the majority, with the acquiescence of minorities.

Lenine and Trotzky talk like democrats and act like autocrats. The arrogant assumption of governmental powers by a confessed minority is the very essence of autocracy.

No one need longer be misled by the fine words of the Bolsheviks. Russia needs another revolution. The quicker it comes, the better.

BRITISH TAKE ENEMY CAPTIVES SAYS HAIG

WORLD'S CROPS

A general idea of crop production the world over may be had by the report of the International Institute of Agriculture, which includes the principal countries. Six of ten staple commodities show an increase for 1917 over average production for the period 1911-1915. These commodities are corn, oats, rice, sugar beets, potatoes and tobacco. The four crops showing a decrease from average production are wheat, rye, barley and flaxseed.

It is interesting to note that the decrease of 14.4 per cent in the wheat crop is compensated by the 14.1 per cent increase in corn, which is the principal substitute of wheat.

JAPANESE THRIFT

Among the Japanese, thrift is a virtue in high esteem. Two old misers of Tokio were one day discussing ways and means of saving. "I manage to make a fan last about 20 years," said one. "I don't open the whole fan wastefully and wave it carelessly about. I open only a section at a time. That is good for about a year. Then I open the next and so on until the fan is used up." "Twenty years for a good fan!" exclaimed the other. "What sinful extravagance! In my family we use a fan for two or three generations, and this is the way we do it. We open the whole fan, but we hold it still, like this, under our nose, and wave our faces."

Someone who has time, patience and opportunity should, by breeding or selection, or both, secure an orange tree with a slight "bloom" on the foliage, or a grayish or bluish green color. Such a tree would no doubt prove very drought-resistant as compared with any we now have. The trees should also need the least water.

Of all plants the bulbs best show their adaptability to drought and all that have periods of dormancy are natives of cold countries or to those having a dry and a wet season as found in California, parts of Australia, Africa, etc. Bulbous plants from the tropics of general rainfall have evergreen tops.

Bud Flivver's Observations

* * * The other day Ted Whitetop read an ad—About a fortune teller—That was stopping—Down at the—Welcome boarding house—

* * * And last night—He came over—And called me out—On the side porch—And he asked me—Wouldn't I like—To know my fortune—

* * * And I told him—I had already—Had mine—And spent it—And I never expected—To have another one—

* * * And he said—This fortune teller—Could tell all about—The past—And present—And business affairs—

* * * And he kept—Hanging around—And coaxing—And arguing—Until I finally—Put on my wool cap—And went with him—

* * * And when we got there—Tessie, Gusher—And her mother—Were just coming out—And Tessie simpered—And said she thought—Madam Marimbeau was just grand—

* * * And in the room—Where Madam Marimbeau—Told fortunes—The lights were shaded—And everything—Looked spooky—

* * * And she started in—To tell Ted's fortune—And she held his hand—And looked—At his palm—And rolled her eyes—And sighed—

* * * And she told him—He was going to—Take a long journey—And, she could see—That some day—in the near future—He would be rich—

* * * And she said—She could see—A golden haired nymph—Hovering around—And a red headed chicken—That would try—to make him trouble—

* * * And Ted snickered—And said—He knew them both—And he got anxious—And told her to hurry—And tell the rest—

* * * And she told him—The golden haired nymph—Was waiting for him—in a rose bowered spot—On the bank—Of a beautiful lake—

* * * And I asked her—Didn't she think—The fair damsel—Would catch cold—Or something—Sticking around a lake—This time of year—

* * * And she didn't let on—Like she heard me—And she finished—Ted's fortune—And collected—His six bits—

* * * And she told me—I was next—And I said—I would stay next—And she commenced—To argue—On the subject—

* * * And I told her—I was married—And knew all about—The yellow haired birds—And the black eyed—Vixens that cause trouble—

* * * And she said—If I didn't—Care to hear—About love affairs—She could tell me—All about my business—

* * * And she asked—How would I—Like it if she—Would arrange—for me to die rich—And I told her—I wouldn't like—for her to arrange—for me to die at all—By Bud.

About Those Bridge Bonds

The importance of the proposed bridge bonds election, and the fact that a good deal of misinformation and misunderstanding is abroad concerning it, renders it expedient to review the conditions upon which the proposition is based and the proceedings of the city council in the matter.

First comes the question as to the need for the bridges. This question, so far as North Flower street is concerned, answers itself satisfactorily when it is remembered that two years ago this winter the bridge at that point was washed out and destroyed by a flood that destroyed many other bridges in the county, and that since that date residents of the northern and northwestern portion of the city have been greatly inconvenienced and the city has lost much business because of the impossibility of crossing the creek at this point with vehicles.

As for the Main street bridge, a flimsy structure at best, built in 1906 at a cost approximating $11,000, constant hard service since that date has destroyed its usefulness and rendered it unfit for the requirements of present day traffic. So much so in fact that in response to urgent requests that the city council take steps to ascertain its exact condition, Col. S. H. Finley, well-known engineer and an acknowledged competent authority, was engaged under contract to the city council, acting under advice of the city engineer and another competent engineer acting in an advisory capacity, decided to accept the plans calling for a bridge of the girder type of construction for North Main street, the cost of which was estimated at approximately $42,000, including cost of supervision by the designer and the cost of inspection as the work of construction progressed. It was also decided that the bridge for North Flower street should be a wood and steel structure, with concrete piers, to cost approximately $775. This matter being settled by unanimous vote of the city council, proceedings looking to the calling of an election to vote bonds for these sums were begun and have been carried forward as speedily as possible until the point has been reached where final action in calling the election is proposed to be taken next Monday night.

One member of the council (Mr. Maryatt) is opposed to this plan. He thinks the North Main street bridge is not a necessity at this time, and believes that the money to build the North Flower street bridge can be taken from the special tax levy of some $13,000, which, according to the provisions of ordinance No. 627, is designed for the express "purpose of improving, repairing and maintaining any and all streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks in the city of Santa Ana, California, under and pursuant to the provisions of any street improvement act providing for the acceptance of streets by said city of Santa Ana, California," and therefore, may not be used for building a bridge.

The ordinance from which the foregoing is a quotation was passed primarily for the purpose of providing funds to assist in the proposed paving of Bristol street, and for certain proposed improvements on Fairview avenue urgently needed to protect property in that section from damage from flood waters during the rainy season.

This ordinance was fully discussed, and the use to which the money to be thus raised was to be put was also carefully considered and unanimously agreed upon.

Thus it would appear that Councilman Maryatt's opposition to the proposed bonds is inconsistent and not well founded, while the necessity for the proposed improvements is so plainly patent as to need little argument or exploitation.

It should be remembered that the Pacific Electric, WHICH IS NOT THE HABIT OF THROWING MONEY AWAY ON PROJECTS THAT ARE NOT NEEDED, is contributing $7000 toward the building of the Main street bridge.

Unexpected and unavoidable delays seriously hindered the progress of the work, however, and it was not until August 20, 1917, that, in response to an advertisement of the city council, plans and specifications for the Main street bridge were submitted, with tentative plans for a bridge at North Flower street. Only two plans were submitted, and of these the city council, acting under advice of the city engineer and another competent engineer, decided to accept the plans calling for a bridge of the girder type of construction for North Main street, the cost of which was estimated at approximately $42,000, including cost of supervision by the designer and the cost of inspection as the work of construction progressed. It was also decided that the bridge for North Flower street should be a wood and steel structure, with concrete piers, to cost approximately $775. The ordinance from which the foregoing is a quotation was passed primarily for the purpose of providing funds to assist in the proposed paving of Bristol street, and for certain proposed improvements on Fairview avenue urgently needed to protect property in that section from damage from flood waters during the rainy season.

This ordinance was fully discussed, and the use to which the money to be thus raised was to be put was also carefully considered and unanimously agreed upon.

Thus it would appear that Councilman Maryatt's opposition to the proposed bonds is inconsistent and not well founded, while the necessity for the proposed improvements is so plainly patent as to need little argument or exploitation.

It should be remembered that the Pacific Electric, WHICH IS NOT THE HABIT OF THROWING MONEY AWAY ON PROJECTS THAT ARE NOT NEEDED, is contributing $7000 toward the building of the Main street bridge.

How Defeat Will Benefit the German People

HAROLD BELL WRIGHT, IN THE FEBRUARY AMERICAN MAGAZINE

From our shores this gospel of the man of Galilee and this gospel of our national freedom have gone forth to every land. To our shores have come lives from every nation to be fused into one national life and to add thus to our ever-growing strength against this day when, for all the peoples of earth, the divine cause of humanity is to be won or lost.

'Everywoman' Staged With Variations By Pomona Society, Santa Anans Hear It

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon, Mr. W. L. Deimling, W. L. Grubb, J. Dick Wilson, Dr. M. L. Davis, H. J. Bucket, M. B. Lucy, J. C. Metzgar, G. Peterson, J. M. Clowes, A. B. Spear, De Wolf, and J. H. Turner were among those who went to Pomona on Tuesday to witness the performance of "Everywoman," the original production of Mrs. W. L. Deimling, and put on with variations by the Ebell Club of that city.

The program was staged at the fine club house of the Ebell and the cast was made up of exceptional talent both local and of outside artists, the production eliciting the highest praise from the Santa Ana visitors.

All due credit was given to the Santa Ana Ebell Club where the clever production originated with Mrs. W. L. Deimling, the playwright. Besides this feature, there were beautiful interpretative dances, excellent music and other attractions. A reception followed the entertainment, when the Santa Ana visitors were invited to meet the members of the cast.

The visit to the Pomona club house inspired anew the determination for a suitable club house for the Santa Ana Ebell, and after the Government has no further use for the Liberty bonds, the vision is sure to be realized.

Woman's Alliance Meeting
The Unitarian Woman's Alliance will meet at the church Friday afternoon of this week for a short business meeting before 3 p.m., at which time Rev. N. F. Pfeiffer's class will meet and continue the discussion of the question "What Is God?"

The change of date is made to give all an opportunity to attend this interesting class and also that the meeting will not conflict with the Wednesday surgical class at the armory.

Please be prompt and remember the hour is 2:30.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

ENDEAVOR EXCURSION

Five Natal Anniversaries Occasion of Happy Dinner Party Yesterday

Five birthdays were celebrated last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira McCarter on Cypress avenue, when twenty-three sat down to dinner upon this joyous occasion, afterwards spending the evening with games and conversation.

Long-stemmed violets, with fern, were used effectively for table decorations. There were birthday cakes with candles for the honorees, who included Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Reid, Adam Walkinshaw, Mrs. Joseph Thompson and Mrs. Scott Torrens. The birthdays of these come closely together, three of them occurring upon the same date.

A "josh" cake for the "tenderfoot" member of the crowd, John Walkinshaw, a late arrival from the East, was the source of much merriment.

The party included, besides the above mentioned: Mrs. Jane McCaughey, Miss Sadie McConaughy, Mrs. Adam Walkinshaw, Misses Margaret and Mary Walkinshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Walkinshaw, Mr. Joseph Thompson, Mr. Scott Torrens and the following children: Reid McCarter, Anna, Marguerite and Raymond Walkinshaw, Delbert Thompson and "Sunny Jim" Torrens.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

BEACH SANITARY DISTRICT WILL BE ATTACKED IN COURTS

Bishop Gets Authority to Sue Laguna Beach Area In Name of State

Action in court is to be brought for the purpose of breaking the organization of the Laguna Beach Sanitary District of Orange County, which was formed last summer for the purpose of securing and maintaining a method for sanitation at Laguna Beach.

Today Attorney Clyde Bishop, representing a number of property owners upon the cliffs and heights on both sides of the flats at the mouth of the canyon, received authority from the attorney general's office to sue in the name of the State of California. The district and its trustees, E. E. Jahraus, Joseph Skidmore, Austin Cody, C. D. Wees and Roy Peacock, are to be the defendants.

Suit will be to set aside all proceedings so far had and to make the district's formation null and void.

Bishop is basing his action upon a number of grounds, but chief reliance for a judgment seems to be centered upon an allegation that the statute under which the district was formed by the Board of Supervisors is unconstitutional.

The letter from the attorney general's office takes the same view that Bishop does in regard to the constitutionality of the law. The letter cites the Van Nuys Lighting District case, which went to the supreme court. That law was declared unconstitutional because it did not provide for a public hearing upon the fixing of boundaries and upon the benefits to be derived from a proposed district. Bishop and the deputy attorney general say the sanitary district law is void for the same reason.

Bishop also alleges that there are errors in the proceedings in the formation of the district that in themselves are sufficient to knock out the district even if the court should find that the law is sound.

For Administration

Henry J. McCombs has asked for letters on the estate of his sister, Louise M. McCombs. The estate is valued at $2500. McCombs is the only heir. G. H. Scott is his attorney.

For Foreclosure

J. H. Kerch with G. H. Scott as attorney has brought suit against Elmo

A. Carpenter and others to foreclose a $900 mortgage.

Condemnation Suit

Today the Pacific Electric brought another condemnation suit for a strip of land on its Santa Ana to Irvine road. The defendant is James F. Smith of Tustin.

For Defendant

Five Los Angeles men have been summoned as witnesses for Edward Keyes, charged with the murder of Leonard Herwick. Trial is on Feb. 4. The witnesses are Deputy Sheriff Harry Wright, Deputy Sheriff Nolan, Jailer George Gallagher, Dr. Charles L. Allen and Dr. T. B. Wright, all of Los Angeles.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

SAYS HE GAVE MORTGAGE FOR BOGUS ROUTE

Wilhite Impresses Cox With Truth of Story and Gets Loan of $2.50

A flip-flop of an unusual nature took place in Justice Cox's court this morning when sentiment took turn in favor of George A. Wilhite, formerly of Orange, now of Los Angeles, and his wife, arrested on a charge of moving mortgaged furniture out of the county.

Wilhite convinced Justice Cox that he had been wronged, rather than having wronged.

Arthur L. Lyttle, now at Ft. Rosecrans, San Diego, swore to the complaint against Wilhite and Mrs. Wilhite. He held a $250 mortgage on household furniture, including a piano.

This morning Wilhite said that Lyttle represented that he owned a tea route at Orange. He said there were 250 customers on the route, and the route by itself would bring in $30 a month.

"After he got a mortgage for $250," said Wilhite, "he turned over the list, and it was worthless. It wasn't worth thirty cents a month, let alone $30.

It was a list of persons who had called at the store or who had been given samples. It was in no way a list of customers. We have a letter from Lyttle that says he will give up the mortgage. We had his permission to move the furniture to Los Angeles."

Justice Cox let the case go over for further settlement, but he loaned Wilhite $2.50, offered it to him, so that the family could get back to their home.

Couple Arrested

This morning Sheriff Jackson got word that Martin Miles and Mary Lobo had been arrested at Downey and were in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Manning of Los Angeles. The sheriff here sent a deputy to bring the couple here. Miles is charged with child-stealing. Mary Lobo being but 13 years of age. The complaint was sworn to by Alfonso Lobo, father of the girl. Miles was a chauleur at San Juan Capistrano, where the girl also lived. They are reported to have left the mission town together last Sunday.

Gets Cold Shoulder

This morning when R. F. Reynolds of Santa Monica was taken from jail to Justice Cox's courtroom for his preliminary examination upon the charge of giving a no-fund check to O. C. Hare of Westminster, McReynolds' wife and child were in the courtroom. He kissed the child, and seemed about to kiss the wife when she calmly turned to one side.

It was reported by an officer today that McReynolds' wife said that things have not been very pleasant at home, and now that he is in trouble he is very anxious to be on good terms with his wife.

In the testimony it developed that McReynolds gave the check to Hare in payment for repairs on an automobile. A witness stated that there was a woman with McReynolds when the machine stopped at the garage. McReynolds was ordered held to answer on $500 bond.

THEY CONSIDER THE PROBLEMS OFFERED BY FOREIGNERS

Speakers Discuss Taking of Steps Toward Helping Mexicans

A conference was held this morning at the city hall under the auspices of the Women's Committee of the Defense Council, at which Mrs. Frank Gibson, state chairman of Americanization, and Miss Richardson, state chairman of Education, were the principal speakers. Representatives of the various city and county organizations or interests that come most closely in touch with the foreign population had been asked to attend, and something over two dozen responded, but among those conspicuously absent, because their presence had been especially desired, were both the city and county school superintendents and members of the school board.

The chief local foreign problem is the Mexican problem and next to the employers of Mexican labor the school authorities deal with it more directly than anyone else.

"Half the population of California is foreign born or of foreign parentage," said Miss Richardson. "One-fourth of the men in the draft were foreigners. A large number even of these drafted men are unable to speak English. The war has made it imperative that we must in some way reach them quickly. There is not time to reach them through the English language, so we must reach them through their own. They must understand why we are at war, why they are put into the army, what their rights are. They must understand the insurance and have questionnaires explained to them. Through State Council of Defense an effort is being made to reach the foreigners by means of a central committee in each county, and each county's need is reached in its own way."

Santa Barbara county has a committee with the school superintendent as its chairman, which handles the problem through the schools, and by the co-operation of employers of foreign labor, reaches the foreign employees. At Camp Kearny there is a class of sixty-five Mexicans who are learning the English language so they may understand their orders. Hostess houses have to be established at all the big camps for the benefit of foreign women who come there with no knowledge of the language, or of any way to reach their own men. At present means must be found to Americanize their ideals through the medium of their own language.

C. E. Utt, one of the largest employers of Mexican labor in Orange county, stated that the United States needs education as badly as did the foreigners, and that the clumsiness of the draft in impressing Mexicans into the army, when, according to treaty rights of the United States has no more right to do so than has the Mexican government to impress Americans into Villa's army, sent hundreds of Mexicans home, and filled most of the others with apprehension German propagandists have enlarged upon this in Mexico and here and much harm has resulted. The Mexicans are a problem, because they get hold of liquor and then commit crimes, but they are a big economic asset.

Mrs. John N. Anderson reviewed the problem as it has existed here in the schools, telling of the excellent work accomplished in the two years when the Mexican children here were segregated up to the Fifth grade. A tenth of the school population here is Mexican and in the schools where they predominate they interfere considerably with the progress of the white children.

In the testimony it developed that McReynolds gave the check to Hare in payment for repairs on an automobile. A witness stated that there was a woman with McReynolds when the machine stopped at the garage. McReynolds was ordered held to answer on $500 bond.

Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, regent of the local chapter of the D. A. R., which organization devotes much time and money to the Americanization problem, said that since an industrial school seemed impossible "under the powers that be," the problem must be worked out some other way. She suggested the motion pictures with the explanations in Spanish, as a possible aid. Mrs. Gibson remarked that it is her opinion that more can be done in one month by the intelligent use of motion pictures than in two years by ordinary methods.

Mrs. Rodriguez, president of the Mexican Parent-Teacher Association at Roosevelt school, advocated, as did Judge Thomas and several others, the supplying of a home teacher for the Mexican mothers, one who should be sufficiently educated to be of service, and yet not so cultured that she was too far above them. Mrs. Rodriguez made an earnest plea that local Mexicans with families to support be given the preference in work, rather than employ perhaps cheaper help from the outside.

A committee was appointed to consider the needs of the county and to work out a plan for reaching the foreigners. The chairman is Mrs. C. E. Smith, county chairman of Education for the Council of Defense, and the other members include C. E. Utt, Mmes. A. J. Crookshank, W. L. Grubb, D. Eyman Huff, J. H. Leebrick, Van Doren, N. A. Beals, Alice Armor, F. D. Drake, W. N. Marsh; Moses Minnie Childs and Sallie Cartmell. Other members will be added.

They must understand the insurance and have questionnaires explained to them. Through State Council of Defense an effort is being made to reach the foreigners by means of a central committee in each county, and each county's need is reached in its own way."

Santa Barbara county has a committee with the school superintendent as its chairman, which handles the problem through the schools, and by the co-operation of employers of foreign labor, reaches the foreign employees.

At Camp Kearny there is a class of sixty-five Mexicans who are learning the English language so they may understand their orders. Hostess houses have to be established at all the big camps for the benefit of foreign women who come there with no knowledge of the language, or of any way to reach their own men. At present means must be found to Americanize their ideals through the medium of their own language.

C. E. Utt, one of the largest employers of Mexican labor in Orange county, stated that the United States needs education as badly as did the foreigners, and that the clumsiness of the draft in impressing Mexicans into the army, when, according to treaty rights of the United States has no more right to do so than has the Mexican government to impress Americans into Villa's army, sent hundreds of Mexicans home, and filled most of the others with apprehension German propagandists have enlarged upon this in Mexico and here and much harm has resulted. The Mexicans are a problem, because they get hold of liquor and then commit crimes, but they are a big economic asset.

Mrs. John N. Anderson reviewed the problem as it has existed here in the schools, telling of the excellent work accomplished in the two years when the Mexican children here were segregated up to the Fifth grade. A tenth of the school population here is Mexican and in the schools where they predominate they interfere considerably with the progress of the white children.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 31, 1918.

MANAGERS PLANE PLANT LOOKING FOR LOCATION IN SANTA ANA

Los Angeles Firm Deeply Impressed With Conditions in the City

That Santa Ana is attracting wide-spread attention as an industrial site was again evidenced when H. L. Glaze, manager of the Engineering Construction Company of Los Angeles, and C. F. McDonald, sales manager of the concern, announced after due inspection, yesterday afternoon, that this city impressed them more than favorably as a location for their contemplated new factory. The concern now has a two-story building, 30 x 125, at 935-937 North Main street, Los Angeles, devoted to the manufacturing of mechanical parts for aeroplanes. In its limited quarters the company now employs about fifteen persons.

"We have enough work for fifty, but we must have a larger daylight factory," explained Glaze, who is a mechanical engineer of thirteen years experience. "We haven't room to move around where we are and the nature of our business makes it imperative that we get out in the broad open. We have material on hand to build several biplanes now, but we have not space to build them."

Asked if his concern contemplated the building of aeroplanes, Glaze said:

"For the present we expect to devote our attention to the manufacture of small aeroplane parts, such as bolts, and the special ball-bearings for industrial machinery. We have $14,000 worth of machinery and with it can take care of a vast amount of small work, for which there is an enormous demand. Our aim, of course, is to build aeroplanes along with our other work just as soon as we are in position to."

The company has just completed an order from the Government for 18,000 special bolts made of high alloy steel. The work was of a very critical nature and the firm received compliments for its effort. Similar orders are available to them, it is claimed.

McDonald is Aviator

C. F. McDonald, who is an aviator and makes regular flights around Los Angeles, has a biplane designed almost entirely by himself. He had with him, and displayed, a number of pictures of recent flights. McDonald avers that his machine, though but forty horsepower as compared to eighty of the average plane, rises quicker and carries a heavier load. His experience in airplanes has been a factor in the success of the Engineering Construction Company, who in eighteen months has outgrown their present quarters in Los Angeles.

J. W. Menier, of Kellogg & Menier, Nash automobile agents at 424-428 West Fourth, is responsible for interesting the prospective industrial site seekers to Santa Ana. Menier and Glaze are brothers-in-law. Should the concern be induced to locate here it would add a payroll of anywhere from $2,000 to $5,000 monthly.

Food Will Win the War

A LARGE part of the world is coming to the position that Belgium is in; coming to the stage where the primary and important thing in life is enough food to keep alive. Food has now taken a dominant position in the war. The American people must prepare themselves to sacrifice far more than was at first thought necessary.

The cold facts are: France, Italy and England have just enough food to keep them going ten or twelve weeks. When America's food shipments stop—the allied nations begin consuming into this slender store and begin a swift march into actual famine conditions—which would mean defeat in short order.

Europe then must live on America's surplus. Your saving increases our available stocks just that much and actually feeds some person in the countries with which we are associated in our war against the Central Powers.

Our surplus wheat has already been shipped to the allies.

COAST CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE ASK BETTER DEFENSE

Oakland Fathering Action to Get Appropriation for Investigation

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—Concerted action by Chambers of Commerce of the whole Pacific Coast has been started to prevail upon Congress immediately to strengthen and add to the sea-board defenses from the Canadian line to the Mexican border.

The program for the Pacific Coast, as laid down by the Helm Commission, appointed by Congress in 1916 to make a country-wide investigation into the needs for coast defenses, is as follows:

At Alameda, Cal.—Pacific Coast naval base, to cost $36,307,000.

At Astoria, Ore.—Development of the possibilities for a submarine base.

At Bremerton and Seattle, Wash. (Puget Sound district)—Development of a home and repair base for submarines; one additional drydock, to cost $2,000.

At Mare Island, Cal.—Home base for submarines; repair base for submarines and aviation; one additional drydock, to cost $2,225,000; additional shops and accessories.

At Los Angeles, Cal.—Submarine base.

At San Diego, Cal.—Aviation base.

Oakland Boosted Measure

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce has just adopted a resolution submitted by the Associated Chambers of the Pacific Coast, declaring that the latter organization shall put forth every effort to obtain action at the earliest possible moment from Congress and co-operate with all sections of the Pacific Coast and the United States in carrying out the naval program laid down in the Helm report.

This resolution has been submitted to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in support of a "gentlemen's agreement" entered into by Californians to stand back of whatever recommendations might be made by the Helm Commission, regardless of the effect on local interests.

The Chambers of Commerce which belong to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast are as follows:

Astoria, Ore., Billingham, Wash., Oakland, Cal., Los Angeles, Cal., San Diego, Cal., Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Cal., Seattle, Wash., Tacoma, Wash.

It is expected that this concerted action will induce Congress to appropriate $6,000,000 for preliminary work asked for in the Helm report.

FRACTURED SKULL IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Florentine Rodriguez, employed by Roy Trapp at Fullerton, is at the county hospital fighting for his life, as the result of an accident in that city. Rodriguez was thrown from his motorcycle and struck on the pavement, fracturing his skull. Reports from the county hospital today are to the effect that the injured man is in a serious condition.

URGE IMMEDIATE ACTION UPON THE PROPOSED HARBOR BONDS

If Possible, Permanent Honor Roll Record Will Be Kept For County

At its meeting at Brea last night the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County passed a resolution urging the Board of Supervisors to take immediate action in calling an election for $500,000 harbor bonds for the improvement of Newport harbor, for the purpose of making it into an Orange county harbor.

This resolution was asked after a number of men from over the county in response to the call of the president, F. C. Krause of Anaheim, had declared emphatically in favor of the bonds and after several had declared their belief that the bonds would least about the project. The bonds will probably carry at Yorba Linda.

A. S. Bradford, Placentia: "We have got to run an educational campaign. The increased valuation at the harbor will be such that the taxpayers will never know any raise in rate."

After other comments, the vote on the resolution was taken, and it was carried without a dissenting vote.

Upon Gas Rate

L. H. Wallace said that the Southern Counties Gas Co. proposal for the fixing of rates should be watched, so that this county would not awaken after the project was well under way.

He moved that the gas rates matter be referred to a committee to look after it "and find out what is going on before the gas company puts something over on us."

The motion carried, and the chairman referred the matter to the manufacturing and commerce committee, composed of T. B. Talbert, R. L. Bisby and J. P. Greeley.

Urged Appropriation

Secretary Metzgar reported that the question as to whether or not the Board of Supervisors shall continue to appropriate $600 a year to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce had been brought up. Metzgar explained in detail what is done with the money. It costs about $300 a year to maintain the county exhibit at the Santa Ana headquarters, and postage runs from $12 to $20 a month. There are many incidental expenses. The free employment bureau is a success, a fact attested to by D. E. Huff.

On Wallace's motion, the Board of Supervisors was urged to continue its appropriation of $600 a year.

The Orange Show

L. H. Wallace of Newport Beach, chairman of the harbor committee of the Associated Chambers, said that the jetty being built by the City of Newport Beach has been moving along toward completion.

"The effect of the jetty has been a big lesson in itself," said he. "The tides going in and out of the bay have scoured out a good channel on the east side of the jetty. No dredging on the bar will be necessary. The city will be saved $9,000 or $10,000 thereby. The sand that has been drifting eastward is now caught on the jetty. Fishing boats go in and out at any time. It would be worth while for every citizen of the county to go to the jetty and look it over."

A. S. Bradford said that he had received a letter from Manager Clark of the California State Taxpayers League in which he asked that no public building enterprises be undertaken now. Bradford wrote in reply an outline of the need of the harbor as a war measure, and when he saw Clark later Clark said he thought it was all right to go ahead.

Bonds Resolution

Albert Lauener of Brea introduced a resolution declaring the harbor to be a war measure and asking the supervisors to take immediate action in calling an election to vote on the bonds.

Declarations of opinions were made by the following:

E. W. Hauck, principal of the Fullerton Union High School: "I am for the harbor as a war measure, and when peace comes we will want it."

Anyone asking delay has no realization of the situation, and I do not believe could have read the commission's report. I strongly favor immediate action."

Dr. Eymann Huff, manager of Hewes ranch, El Modena: "We need the harbor, and now is the most opportune time to pass the bonds. A harbor will help us all."

Peterkin, Brea: "Our chamber of commerce is solidly for the bonds."

R. L. Bisby, Santa Ana: "I have seen a practical demonstration of the benefits of a harbor at Long Beach, where houses are being built right along to accommodate the increasing help. If ever there was a time when the harbor was practical, as a matter of business, now is the time."

E. Marquand, Fullerton: "This project is the most momentous in the history of the county. By it we will lay the cornerstone of great development. If we show the right spirit the government will help us."

H. A. Lake, Garden Grove: "I favor the bonds, but think it will take lots of work to carry them, but I think they will carry. When one sees San Pedro and knows what we have here, I don't see how they can doubt the making of a harbor at Newport."

Thirsty'll Carry

L. M. Hopper, La Habra: "All up our way seem to be in favor of the bonds. The bonds will receive strong support at La Habra."

N. F. Morse, Placentia: "Those I have talked with about the bonds are for them."

T. A. Winbiger, Santa Ana: "The question admits of no argument. If it takes work, this body of men is not afraid of work. This is the most opportune time to carry the bonds."

H. T. Thomson, Villa Park: "Now is the time."

Dr. Keller, Yorba Linda: "While the bonds will probably carry, they will have some opposition, probably largely from those who pay little taxes and from those who know the

AD. CLUB OF WORLD TO VISIT ORANGE COUNTY

At the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce last night R. L. Bisby said that next July Orange County would be visited by the Ad Club of the World. ## FARM BUREAU OF WINTERSBURG WILL MEET

Permanent Organization to Be Effectuated at Gathering to Be Held Tonight

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 30.—A meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held at the Bradbury hall on Wednesday evening of this week, at which time the society which has heretofore been only temporary will be organized and officers elected.

This includes all Westminster, Bol-sa, Talbert and Huntington Beach ranchers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Draper, daughter Miss Bessie, and son Frank, motored to Balboa and spent Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Alford and son
Russell were Long Beach visitors last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ethel Graham spent from Friday until Sunday evening visiting at Huntington Beach.

A machine driven by Neil Bradbury, the other occupants of which were Miss Emma Warren of Bolsa, Miss Ima Clemens and Jim Maddox of this place, was wrecked last Friday evening as the young people were on their way to Huntington Beach, but luckily all escaped serious injury and only bruises and some slight cuts were left as reminders of the unpleasant accident.

A slippery pavement, the result of the light shower of rain that fell that evening, was the cause of the accident, which happened near the Huntington Beach cemetery. After skidding, the machine turned entirely over and half again, finally landing against the cemetery hedge over which one of the tires of the machine was thrown by the impact when the hedge was struck.

Two wheels were entirely wrecked and the windshield broken. Word sent immediately to the Wintersburg Garage brought assistance and the machine was taken there for repairs.

An Epworth League cabinet meeting was held at the H. O. Ensign home Monday evening. No special business was transacted but ways and means of assisting in the meetings that commence this coming week at the church were talked over.

Mrs. Barton was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Moore and family.

Mrs. Stanley, teacher at the Springdale school, was taken ill at school laid for Mrs. Leland, Mrs. Harden, Mrs. Billings, Mrs. Pulley, Miss Martin Craddick, Miss Rose Richardson, Harry Williams, Millard Day and Mr.

Hutchinson of Santa Ana. In the evening a movie party at the Colonial was enjoyed by the dinner guests.

The Modern Woodmen of America
installed the following officers at their
last meeting: John Kaiser, P. C.; C.
E. Osmun, V. C.; V. O. Estes, W. A.;
J. F. Lee, clerk; F. W. Honey, banker;
T. C. McBride, escort; D. F. Royer,
physician; A. R. Fernald, watchman;

manager. After installation an oyster
supper was enjoyed at Decker's.

CHICKEN SUPPER OF Y BOYS BIG SUCCESS

$17 Cleared by Young Men at Wintersburg Last Friday Evening

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 30.—The chicken pie supper planned and served by the Y. M. C. A. boys at the Wintersburg hall last Friday evening proved a grand success in every way, and the boys themselves proved beyond doubt to be the most competent of hosts, business managers, waiters and in fact, filled every position necessarily created for the furtherance of the pleasure of their patrons in a most creditable manner.

The supper was served cafeteria style and the menu, which consisted of chicken pie, pickles, olives, mashed potatoes, bread, butter and coffee, proved to be most delicious. Tables for the convenience of the diners were arranged throughout the hall.
The number in attendance was large considering the doubtful weather and twenty-two dollars was taken in during the evening. As the chickens were donated and cut rates were allowed on some of the other expenses it is thought five dollars will be deducted from the $22, leaving $17 for the boys' profits, which they consider decidedly good. The itemized account of the expenses has not yet been made out.

A pleasant social time was given to the crowd present by the boys, following the supper hour.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis and Mrs. Walter Roselle of Compton, left Friday for Hemet to visit Mr. and Mrs.
M. J. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs.
A. G. Cleaver. The party returned the first of the week.

Mrs. Lena Towels arrived Wednesday of last week from Colorado for a visit at the home of her uncle, Geo.
Gothard. Mrs. Towels formerly lived in Los Angeles, but has not been in this state the past two years.

Mrs. Towels is here for an indefinite stay and is thoroughly enjoying the return to California climate.

The first snow of the season was experienced in Colorado the day and night before her departure, which was Sunday of last week.

On Tuesday evening of last week
the members of the local Y. M. C. A. met for their regular business meeting at the C. H. Maddox home. Following the business session a social time was enjoyed and Mrs. Maddox added much to the pleasure of the event by serving tempting refreshments of home-made cake and cookies with cocoa.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nichols enteredtained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beckwith and little niece and Mrs. Beckwith's mother, Mrs. Hopkins, who has spent the past two months at the Beckwith home, at dinner last Sunday, prior to their leaving that evening for Torrence. They expect to remain there only until spring, so took only personal belongings with them and left the remainder of their goods at their home here.

Ruth Ross, little daughter of Rev.
and Mrs. M. Ross, is confined at her home suffering with a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. She was taken ill the middle of last week and her condition remained unimproved until Monday morning when she seemed slightly better.

Miss Ruth Jordan spent the weekend at Whittier, as the guest of an aunt and cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan spent Saturday in Santa Ana and started home just in time for the storm to overtake them at the Fifth Street School. In a short time the running boards, radiator and top of their car were covered with the hail stones, larger than beans, and the
flats between town and Blankenbicker's
store were solid white with it.

Already the Nursing Service of the Red Cross has equipped and sent abroad 1,700 nurses with army and navy corps. According to Miss Jane Delano, chairman of the National Committee on Red Cross Nursing Service, the fact that recruiting nurses is not keeping pace with military needs does not indicate that women of the country are slackers in the nursing service, but merely shows that the sudden and extraordinarily heavy demand for nurses has not been thoroughly realized by women available.

Convenient ring binder—open the rings and slip the Helps on. Stiff board backs that will keep Household Helps from getting destroyed. Mailed prepaid for 30c in stamps.

In addition to nurses serving with army and navy nurse corps, 56 Red Cross public health nurses are on duty in sanitary zones surrounding camps, radiator and top of their car were covered with the hail
stones, larger than beans, and the
flats between town and Blankenbicker's
store were solid white with it.

These nurses when on active duty are entitled to the same Government war risk insurance as the army and navy officers and enlisted men. Within the last few days the Red Cross Nursing Service has recruited a group of 100 nurses for the army nurse corps for service with the British expeditionary forces, at the request of the British Government, and has mobilized several highly specialized groups of nurses for orthopedic, contagious, psychiatric and facial surgery hospitals as well as mobile operating units and other important groups.

But as demands grow daily, a serious problem arises in home nursing for civilian needs. Estimated by the army nurse corps that over 30,000 nurses will be needed on the basis of present estimates of a foreign army of 1,000,000 men. This situation is made doubly serious because conditions of war, which take wage earners from homes and nurses from civilian hospitals, produce increased amount of sickness and distress among the civilian population, with decreased facilities for guarding their health.

Since the entrance of the United States into the war, number of pupil nurses entering nurses' training schools has increased 20 per cent over the year before. Generally, too, superintendents of these training schools have by every means at their command enlarged their facilities for training and housing greatly increased numbers of pupil nurses.

When this last has been impossible their committees in several instances have put suitable accommodations at their disposal and number of training schools have so arranged hours that pupil nurses may take courses and still live at home. In order to meet increasing demands of the army and navy nurse corps, the Red Cross has modified somewhat the former requirements for enrollment.

The age limit is lowered to 21 years and in special cases nurses over 40 may be accepted. Smaller schools for nurses have been placed on the accredited list and applicants are judged on merits. All Red Cross nurses assigned to duty in military hospitals automatically become members of army or navy nurse corps and after assignment to duty they are no longer under the supervision or direction of the Red Cross.

The Modern Woodmen of America
installed the following officers at their
last meeting: John Kaiser, P. C.; C.
E. Osmun, V. C.; V. O. Estes, W. A.;
J. F. Lee, clerk; F. W. Honey, banker;
T. C. McBride, escort; D. F. Royer,
physician; A. R. Fernald, watchman;
W. W. Wilson, sentry; H. B. Wiseman,
manager. After installation an oyster
supper was enjoyed at Decker's.

It was hard to realize that they had not suddenly been transferred to some eastern state, while traveling under these non-local conditions.

Miss Myrtle Culver was a week-end visitor from Los Angeles, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W.
Culver. Miss Culver is a student of the Los Angeles Normal, and will graduate with the March class.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Morgan visited Philip Trenero at Bolsa Sunday afternoon.
Mr. Trenero has been very ill the past week with heart affection and also la grippe. A number of other members of the Rebekah lodge also visited him during the afternoon.

J. J. Graham started seeding his barley land, of which he has one hundred acres, on Monday of this week. He has cut down the acreage to just half of what he had in barley last year and the remainder of his land will be in beans and potatoes.

Mrs. Burdick of Chino, and daughter Mrs. Ruppert of Stanton, left Thursday of last week to visit relatives in Santa Ana, before returning to their homes. While here they were guests at the Stoeck, Worthy and Pryor homes.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

While the first part of January was extremely quiet in the matter of dried fruit market on the Coast, business is showing a little more activity now, and for the time of year and for the stocks available is fairly good.

Poultry prices are about the highest in the history of Los Angeles. This has been occasioned by a number of perfectly normal and natural reasons. The lack of rain has made the poultry business a tremendously expensive one and there has been such a strong demand for poultry meat and products from all parts of the country that the producer has been put in a difficult position to take care of the trade.

MAKING SURVEY OF LABOR CONDITIONS

FULLERTON, Jan. 30.—Elwood J. Sullivan of the state public employment bureau, Los Angeles district, which embraces eight counties in Southern California, is spending a couple of days in Fullerton and vicinity, making a survey of labor conditions.

He says the success of the public employment bureaus of this state has been phenomenal. In the year 1917, the five bureaus operating in this state placed 138,003 men and women in positions. The Los Angeles district found positions for 65,682. There are hundreds of efficient men and women now available and instead of a shortage there is a large surplus of unemployed labor. This is likewise true of our commercial department.

The state bureaus will play an important part in the mobilizing and distribution of labor the coming season.

YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDANS CONSIDERING CANNERY

Vegetable Growers Discussing Cannery Project For Handling Tomatoes

YORBA LINDA, Jan. 31.—The vegetable growers of Yorba Linda and Richfield district will hold a meeting at the water company's office tomorrow night for the purpose of perfecting an association for the ensuing year, for handling all kinds of vegetables. This year will no doubt be a banner year for good prices on all kinds of vegetables. Various canning companies are now offering $15 per ton for canning tomatoes for the coming season.

Among the Yorba Linda growers there has been considerable talk about the possibility of securing a local cannery to handle the tomatoes not suitable for marketing.

Farm Center to Meet

The Yorba Linda center of the Orange County Farm Bureau will formally begin its work Saturday evening, when it will have Dr. H. J. Webber, citrus expert and director of the citrus experiment station at Riverside, to talk on problems which are now engaging the attention of local growers. Dr. Webber will spend the entire day Saturday inspecting orchards on the tract, so that he may be able to talk on Yorba Linda's particular needs, and his talk will be of vital interest to growers.

The meeting will be held in Ley hall, and every one interested in the citrus industry is urged to attend. The farm center is for the benefit of the whole community, and by meeting and discussing their problems together it is expected that the ranchers will mutually benefit.

The Yorba Linda center now has sixty-nine members, being the second largest unit in the county.

Woodmen Install

The Order of Modern Woodmen of America held its annual installation last Tuesday night at Ley hall. The lady members of Royal Neighbors of America prepared a splendid dinner which was served in the banquet room at 6:30 p. m. Forty members of the two societies enjoyed themselves to the full.

At 8 p. m. the lodge was called to order by Rev. Dr. W. J. Marsh, acting as installation officer, M. A. Bridge acting as installation escort. The following were installed as officers for the ensuing year:

James A. Logsdon, council; W. G. Martin, past council; E. R. Walker, worthy adviser; S. E. Woodworth, banker; H. E. Carnes, clerk; W. A. Vetter, escort; H. S. Welch, watchman; T. H. DeWitt, sentry; H. M. Hayden, trustee for a three-year term.

Following are the trustees for the ensuing year: J. W. Hargrave, Dr. W. J. Marsh and H. M. Hayden. Hayden served in the same capacity as trustee since the camp was first organized in such a satisfactory manner and was reelected.

Installing Grader

The Foothill Groves Association in Yorba Linda is improving its packing house equipment with a combination grader and washer. The picking for this run is starting in earnest at present and about 60,000 boxes are expected to be the result. The fruit is fine, also the prices, and this is bringing a smile to many a grower's face. They expect to ship a car this week.

Died Sunday

Mrs. Hanna, formerly of Elsinore, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Loomis, on the Santa Fe lease in Olinda Sunday. Mrs. Hanna came to her daughter's home the latter part of last year, and had been ill most of the time since.

Shipping Citrus Fruit

The Yorba Linda Citrus Association is sending out quite a bit of fruit at present. A car and a half of lemons and a half a car of Valencias went out last week and this week the association is expecting to send out a car each of oranges and lemons. Prices are good, $5.50 f. o. b. being received for first-grade lemons.

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

Santa Ana Women Have Learned the Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and bladder disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weaknesses. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Santa Ana people. Read this Santa Ana case:

Mrs. A. F. Parks, 912 W. First St., says: "I suffered from a dull ache over my kidneys, which affected me most when I was on my feet. I had a tired, languid feeling and lacked energy. I suffered from dizzy spells and often had to put my hand on something to steady myself. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought two boxes at the White Cross Drug Co. They relieved the backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint."

O. E. MANSUR, Secy.

The Superintendent's report was read and ordered filed as follows:

Orange, Cal., Jan. 25, 1918.

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the S. A. V. I. Co.:

Gentlemen:—Work done during the month is as follows:

On petition of Ransom Reid, have laid above McFadden street, 294 feet of 18-inch pipe and have lowered 44 feet across same street to proper grade, making a total of 338 feet. Have also laid 44 feet of 16-inch iron back-ups.

On petition of W. E. Hencks et al on Ditch "Q," have laid 858 feet of 18-inch and 1,844 feet of 16-inch pipe and have replaced four gates, using four 16-inch iron back-ups.

On ditch "J" near Hewes Packing House, have connected our ditch with the Southern Pacific's new 24-inch pipe across their right-of-way, using six feet of 24-inch pipe.

Have laid 1,244 feet of 16-inch pipe at Pumping Plant No. 6, connecting with canal. Have overhauled pump No. 4 for the coming season.

Have made 268 feet of 16-inch and 276 feet of 10-inch cement pipe.

Have cleaned and built up banks of canal where needed.

Other work has been attended to as usual.

Respectfully submitted,

W. A. RALPH, Supt.
